

Glenn Miller

From Small Towns
Glenn Miller was born in Clarion, Pennsylvania, a small town of 1,000 people. He was the youngest of five children. His father was a coal miner and his mother was a homemaker. Miller moved to New York City in 1934 to pursue a career in music. He became a member of the Glenn Miller Orchestra and led the band during World War II. Miller was killed in action in 1944 while serving in the military. He is remembered as one of the most popular and successful big band leaders of the 1940s.
